1. Introduction

This template, created in MS Word 2000/2007/2010 and saved as “Word 97-2000 & 6.0/95 – RTF” for the PC, provides authors with most of the formatting specifications needed for preparing electronic versions of their papers. All standard paper components have been specified for three reasons: (1) ease of use when formatting individual papers, (2) automatic compliance to electronic requirements that facilitate the concurrent or later production of electronic products, and (3) conformity of style throughout a journal publication. Margins, column widths, line spacing, and type styles are built-in; examples of the type styles are provided throughout this document. Some components, such as multi-leveled equations, graphics, and tables are not prescribed, although the various table styles are provided. The format will need to create these components, incorporating the applicable criteria that follow.

2. Custom Title

2.1. SciencePG-Level2-Single-line

First, confirm that you have the correct template for your paper size. This template has been tailored for output on the A4 paper size.
specifications of this template. You will need to determine whether or not your equation should be typed using either the Times New Roman or the Symbol font (please no other font). To create multileveled equations, it may be necessary to treat the equation as a graphic and insert it into the text after your paper is styled.

Equation numbers, within parentheses, are to position flush right, as in (1), using a right tab stop. To make your equations more compact, you may use the solidus (/), the exp function, or appropriate exponents. Italicize Roman symbols for quantities and variables, but not Greek symbols. Use a long dash rather than a hyphen for a minus sign. Punctuate quantities and variables, but not Greek symbols. In a sentence: “Equation (1) is . . .”

After the text edit has been completed, the paper is ready for the template. Duplicate the template file by using the Save As command, and use the naming convention prescribed by your conference for the name of your paper. Do this newly created file, highlight all of the contents and import your prepared text file. You are now ready to style your paper; use the scroll down window on the left of the MS Word Formatting toolbar.

5. Reference

The template will number citations consecutively within brackets [2]. The sentence punctuation follows the bracket [2]. Refer simply to the reference number, as in [2]—do not use “Ref. [2]” or “reference [2]” except at the beginning of a sentence: “Reference [2] was the first . . .”

3.1. Figure (SciencePG-Level2-Single-line)

3.2. Table (SciencePG-Level2-Single-line)

Table is as follows: Use words rather than symbols or abbreviations when writing Figure axis labels to avoid confusing the reader. As an example, write the quantity “Magnetization”, or “Magnetization, M”, not just “M”.

The main text must be clearly paragraphed.
pixels/face and 6 pixels/face levels altogether indicate that this ERP component is especially sensitive to the first-order configural cues. Some other works have supported both of these ideas [6, 16, 25].

Acknowledgements

The preferred spelling of the word “acknowledgment” in America is without an “e” after the “g.” Avoid the stilted expression, “One of us (R. B. G.) thanks . . .” Instead, try “R. B. G. thanks.” Put sponsor acknowledgments in the unnumbered footnote on the first page.

References

Commented [A16]:
1) No pictures or formulas in reference.
2) Please list at least 15 pieces of references.

Commented [A17]: The reference should be numbered in the unified form, such as [1], [2], [3] and so on.
